A Mexican Multibillionaire.

Pedro Alvarado, the Mexican multimillionaire miner who a few years ago was working in a mine for 85 cents a day, has ordered a train of five Pullman cars, in which he will make a tour of Mexico. He will be accompanied by a bodyguard of armed men. Alvarado has just built at Parais the finest residence in Mexico. Once he offered to pay the public debt of the republic, saying he had obtained his vast wealth from the ground and therefore that he ought to donate that much of it to the government. This offer was declined. The only time that Alvarado has been out of the Parais mining district was two years ago, when he chartered a special train and took his family with him to the city of Chihuahua to have a gold filling placed in one of his teeth.

Jones—Henry.

This remarkable wedding announcement recently appeared in a Greenville (Wis.) paper:

"Miss Jennie Jones and Bob Henry were married at the Jones mansion last night. The bride is the daughter of our Constable Jones, who is a good officer and will undoubtedly be re-elected next spring. He offers a fine house for sale in another column. The groom runs a grocery store on Main street and is a good patron of our ad. columns and has a fine lot of bargains this week. All summer he paid 2 cents more for butter than any store in town. The happy couple left on the 10 o'clock train to visit the bride's uncle in Milwaukee, who is reported to have lots of money and Bright's disease. Bob certainly has an eye to business."

"Thief of Time" Held.

"Procrastination," called out a wag of a clerk in the Adams street court in Brooklyn the other day, and a wag of a court officer, who understood, led forward one Thomas Morgan, no home.

"What is the prisoner charged with?" asked the court.

"Stealing ten alarm clocks from a store at 150 Myrtle avenue."

"Thief of time, we will hold you for the grand jury," decided the court.
